What is FlexiSign Pro 10? FlexiSign Pro 10 is the most advanced virtual printing, signature capture, and forms management solution available on the market today! It includes everything you need to create electronic forms for both paper and web-based documents such as digital contracts, invoices, order forms, survey forms, receipts, etc. FlexiSign Pro 10 can be used to transform a paper form into a virtual format for viewing on a computer or mobile device. It can also capture a digital signature from a computer, web cam, mobile device or smart phone. The digital signature is automatically authenticated and linked to the form. FlexiSign Pro 10 is completely integrated with local and remote database systems such as FileMaker and Microsoft SQL Server. This means that the document data is tied directly to the signature information and can be shared between systems. FlexiSign Pro 10 automates the process of converting paper forms into electronic documents with an integrated signature capture and management system. It features templates for forms based on industry standard templates such as AEC drawings, CAD specifications, JPG/JPEG photos, Excel spreadsheets or Word documents. It also features an easy-to-use interface with wizards to assist the user through each step of the process. With FlexiSign Pro 10, you can make changes to the form layout, add content, and preview your document before printing or emailing. FlexiSign Pro 10 includes tools for manipulating graphics, including cropping, resizing, rotating and auto correcting. FlexiSign Pro 10 is not compatible with Mac OS X Lion or iWork '09/'10/'11 applications. Customers should upgrade to Maverick for updated software support. FlexiSign Pro 10 offers a selection of advanced features for advanced users. In addition to the test and capture modes for creating forms, FlexiSign Pro 10 also includes a test mode that allows you to create a form from an existing electronic document. This lets you build a customized form from a document that you have previously created in Microsoft Word, Excel, AEC drawings, Adobe Photoshop or any other program. It also offers the flexibility to view your form on most mobile devices right from your desktop. flexisign pro 10 keygen 35
